

Office of the Lieutenant Governor

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

In recognition of

Jessica Dolan

2008 Best 50 Women in Business Award Recipient

May 19, 2008

As Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate you, Jessica Dolan, on being recognized as one of Pennsylvania's Best 50 Women in Business. Through your professional accomplishments as Owner of Room to Breathe Home and Office Organizing, community involvement, and influence upon other women in business you have helped the Commonwealth create jobs and achieve economic goals.

As a former businesswoman, and Pennsylvania's first female Lieutenant Governor, I know first hand the challenges that women face in the business arena today. I commend you for your outstanding ability to overcome these obstacles and achieve your goals. I am so proud of all my female colleagues in Pennsylvania. Together I believe we can make a difference in the lives of our fellow Pennsylvanians and women everywhere. As such, I share the words of Eleanor Roosevelt, who said:

"No one can make you feel inferior without your consent."

As we celebrate the significant achievements of businesswomen of the past and look forward to their contributions to our future, we must continue to strive to attain the ideals of hard work, intelligence, and success that you so brilliantly represent.

On behalf of the more than twelve million citizens of Pennsylvania, I value this occasion to recognize you and wish you all of the best for continued success in your future endeavors.
